New York University senior Jessica McEntee has been named the 2009 Women's DIII News Player of the Year.

McEntee led the Violets to a 22-5 record and a Sweet 16 appearance. She led the University Athletic Association in scoring at 18.7 point a game and rebounding, pulling down 11.4 boards a contest. She earned Player of the Year honors in the UAA.

"As our Preseason Player of the Year, Jessica had the opportunity to keep this honor with her play this season, and she did," said WDIIN Editor Gary Rubin. "There were many outstanding candidates for this award, but her performance all season long in one of the toughest leagues in the country showed she is the most deserving."

McEntee headlines the 2009 WDIIN All-American team, where she was joined on the first team by Colorado College senior Melanie Auguste, Hillary Klimowicz of The College of New Jersey, LeighAnn Burke of DeSales and Megan Scheele of Edgewood.

WDIIN has named a Player of the Year every season since 1994.
