• Note: Not every conference selects a Coach of the Year

FDU-Florham head coach Marc Mitchell has been named the 2014 Schelde Sports/Women's DIII News Coach of the Year.

Mitchell led his Devils to a perfect 33-0 overall record and the 2014 Division III national championship.

"Only eight Division III women's teams have ever achieved a perfect season so Marc is to be commended for his efforts this year. He is most deserving of this honor," said WDIIN editor and publisher Gary Rubin. "He adds his name to the long list of distinguished winners dating back to 1994. Along with Schelde Sports, we are pleased to recognize him for his achievement and hard work."

"Coaching college basketball today means sacrifices and countless hours devoted to a team, and winning a national championship with a perfect record takes an outstanding effort from the first day of practice to the final buzzer in March," said Jim Peterson, president of Schelde Sports, a leading basketball goal and equipment manufacturer. "Schelde Sports is honored to partner with Women's DIII News to recognize Marc Mitchell and all the Division III coaches."

Women's DIII News has named a Coach of the Year every season since 1993-94.
